

WHERE can my SKILLS take me?

What's your superpower - numbers or people?

123

Numbers, data, and analysis!

Talking, connecting, and building relationships!

Where do you shine - big goals or precise steps?

What's your focus - building trust or sealing the deal?

Big-picture thinking (planning strategies and seeing the long game) Careers like portfolio manager, investment strategist, or corporate financial analyst could be your thing

Crunching the details (analyzing numbers and spotting patterns) Roles like research analyst, risk analyst, or financial modeler are great fits

Talent maker (loves putting people together and making them shine) Careers like wealth manager, financial advisor, HR manager, team lead let you guide clients to success

Selling (pitching ideas and closing deals) Roles like institutional sales, private banker, or business development manager could be perfect

Curious about managing risk?

Are you a risk-taker or a stability seeker?

Risk-taker (thrill of fast-paced decisions) Jobs like trader, portfolio manager, or investment banker might suit your bold side

Stability seeker (managing risks and protecting value) Careers like risk manager, compliance analyst, and credit analyst keep things steady and secure

Not sure if you're more tech-savvy or traditional?

Are you tech-savvy or more traditional?

Tech-savvy (love data, coding, and algorithms) Roles like quantitative analyst, fintech specialist, or data analyst let you combine tech with finance

More traditional (prefer strategy, relationships, and planning) Jobs like consultant, private equity analyst, or financial planner give you room to lead